Why we Use Code first rather than DBfirst?

Because, Code First is better for Agile development. You write everything in C#. You can change a property in C#, run a migration and update database without leaving Visual Studio.

Why we use Fluent API over DataAnnotations?

It provides separation of concerns (clean code). It provides things (configurations) that can't be done in DataAnnotations. It's the only way when you don't have no source code.